

We are pleased to announce that the National Law School of India University, Bengaluru, and Tata Consultancy Services have entered into a Memorandum of Understanding to explore the potential of new technologies in the legal domain and laws relating to technology.

